

Battle Hymn of Love

I will pledge my heart
To the love we share
Through the good and the bad times too
I'll forsake my rest for your happiness
Til my death I will stand by you

With God as my witness
This vow I will make
To have and to hold you no other to take
For rich or for poor under skies grey or blue
Til my death I will stand by you

There are wars and there are rumors
Of wars yet to come
Temptations we'll have to walk through
Though others may tremble I will not run
Til my death I will stand by you

And I will put on the armor of faithfulness
To fight for a heart that is true
Till the battle is won
I will not rest
Til my death I will stand by you
