

His love will guide the way

©2000 Polished Arrow Publishing Brenda Geneau

As she closes her eyes at the end of the day
She invites her time to pray
For two little children asleep upstairs
She wonders what lies ahead
There's no need to worry or no need to fear
Cause she believes what the good book say=s
Just kneel down and pray trust and obey
His love will guide the way

He's been looking work
For six months now
And anger flares up when you=re proud
Four mouths to feed and bills to pay
He worries bout what lies ahead
She reaches her hand to comfort his heart
Cause she believes what the good book say's
Let's kneel down and pray trust and obey

Well when times get tough and there's no hope in sight
Look up to heaven and see the light
Then kneel down and pray trust and obey
His love will guide the way
Yeah! His love will guide the way
